CONCLUSION AND FUTURE ENHANCEMENTS

Conclusion

- This Project helps the client to know more about the company he is interested in.
- This reduces the work of the client as he can get all the information about the various branches and employee details.
- Knowing the annual report of the company becomes easy through this.
- Easy way to know various companies without any roaming around streets or pasting ads in public places or advertising through newspapers.

Future enhancements

It is not possible to develop a system that fulfills all the requirements of the user. User requirements keep changing as the system is being used. The same can be said of the business organization management system. Some of the future enhancements that can be done to this system are:

- In future this project may be extended to book an interview with the company the client is interested in.
- Even employees can put up their resume and the interested company can hire them.
